an Early Completion - After Another Day's Discussion the House Passed the Auti-Option Bilt and Takes Up the Gen erat Deliciency Bill,

Washington, June 23.—Quite a number of bills were passed before the consideration of the tariff bill was resumed

The lowes bill to incorporate the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias was reported favorably by Senator Fanik-and reported tarbatably by Senator Faulk-Bef and was immediately passed.

The following bills were also passed:
Senate bill for the relief of Charles college, Missouri (being a payment for the use of property during the war).

Senate bill, appropriating $40,000 for the investigation and tests of American timber by the freezer American timber by the forestry division of th agreeiltural dopartment.

cessor from North Carolina, made his maiden speech in support of the income tax. It was 6 o'clock when Mr. Jarvis finished, and Mr. Hill, who desired to

It was 6 o'clock when Mr. Jarvis finished, and Mr. Hill, who desired to reply to some of the remarks made during the day, asked Mr. Harris, in charge of the bill, to yield to an adjournment, as the senate had been sitting eight hours at a temperature in the chamber of 85. Mr. Harris said that he regretted that he could not comply with the request. The country, as well as the sonate, he said, had some rights as well as senarors. The country was entitled to knew art the earliest possible moment mew at the earliest possible moment what the face of this bill was to be.

Mr. Hill was proceeding to discuss the question of changing the rules at length, when Mr. Harris, realizing that he could not force the New York senator against his will, manenvored so that a vote was had upon an unimportant verbal amendment, and this disclosing the absence of a group he word as verbal amendment, and this disclosing the absence of a quorum, he moved an adjournment. In doing so he gave notice that he should ask the senate to sit until the tarrif bill was finally completed in the committee of the whole and reported to the senate. Then, at 7:10, the senate adjourned.

Washington, June 23.—Immediately on convening the house went into con-mittee of the whole on the anti-option bill. The bill was read by sections for amendments, and a number of them offered and acted upon, and finally the bill was passed by 149 years to 87 nays. Immediately after the passage of the bill the general deficiency appropriation bill was then taken up. After a few min-utes stent in confusion. utes spent in explanation of the bill by Mr. Sayers, who is in charge of it, instead of Breekinridge, the committee rose, and at 5 o'clock a recess was taken until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be devoted to private pension bills.

ICE PLANT WRECKED.

One Man Narrowly Escaped Death From Ammonia Gases. Elizabeth, N. J., June 23.—The entire ice plant of the Elizabeth Ice com-

the ice plant of the Elizabeth Ice company was wrecked yesterday afternoom. R. S. Williams, one of the company, narrowly escaped death by strangulation through escaping annuonia used in the making of the ice. A loaded contain which had been run into by seven cars of pig irou down a steep grade on the Pennsylvania railroad at Murray street crashed into the building.

The heavy loaded car, after it left the restle in the rear of the plant, crashed through the side of the factory and mestle in the rear of the plant, crashed through the side of the factory and plunged into one of the large ammonia condensers, ripping the large tank in twam. Instantly the engineroom was filled with stifling fumes of ammonia. Mr. Williams staggered to the shut-off pipe and stopped the flow of the chemicals and then made a dash for the open air, which he reached none too soon.

New York, June 23.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The week has been rich in promise, but poor in performance. It was confidently promised that exports of gold would coase, but they have not. It was promised that the ord of the coal strike would bring immediate recovery of in-promised that the ond of the coal strike would bring immediate recovery of industries, but partial resumption of work discloses comparative scantiness of demand for products.

Operations in wheat advanced 18-4 cents, though western receipts were only 1,331,510 bushels, against 2,269,185 last year, and Atlantic exports only 555,931 bushels, against 2,002,088 last year. Corn advanced but again receded with small exports and fairly large receipts. Cotton declined a sixteenth but recovered; the visible stock of American here and abroad is 2,512,990 bales, against 2,583,573 last year, and there is every reason to expect an increased yield. It was confidently expected that the Wool is less active and rather weaker, with sales about equal to half a full consumption, 3,252,511 pounds, agalast 2,998,900 for the same work last year and 5,418,550 in 1892. For shree works of Juno she sales have been 8,679,124 pounds, against 16,938,670 in 1892. There is much disappointment that the partial termination of the coal strike does not promptly enlarge the demand for iron and steel products, which is evidently too narrow as yet to support much increase of production.

Failures during the week are 214 in the United States, against 273 last your, and 26 m Canada against 14 last year.

2. Said act does not authorize the assessment or collection of their traffic.

2. Said act does not authorize the assessment or cellection of such tax for the year 1893. Judgment reversed.

There were three cases under consideration, viz Edward Metz vs. John Hagerty, auditor of Humilton county. Alma N. Frankel vs. Thomas E. Davey, and iter of Maloning county, and John G. Goeitz vs. the same. The entry is "reversed and renunded for new trial." The sylubus shows what the real decision is, however. Judge Burkett, who drew it, saw a majority of the court held that tax could not be collected in 1893 under it, for the reason that it did not take effect until August in that year. This law required wholesale dealers to pay $200, and retail dealers $100 per authorized.

This law required wholesale dealers to pay $200, and retail dealers $100 per annum. Last winter it was amended reducing the tax to $30 and $15 per year. The supreme court also reversed the judgment of the lower courts in the case of Benjamin F. Bushnell on the ground of developments in the trial regarding an alleged confession. Bushnell was taken back to Cinemnati from the state prison some time ago. It he had emerted upon his sentence at once he would have $100 ct its assent. he would have served it on the seron of next month The case of Patrick J. Burke vs. the

At a session of the woman's club not long ago, which lasted three hours, a dozen clever women took part in a brilliant discussion which followed the reading of the paper for the day. The room was filled, at least 50 women being present. The gas was lighted before the exersises were half over, and the air be came intolerably close. The voices of the speakers grew weak in their laborious effort to be heard in the vitiated atmosphere, but nobody thought of ventilation till a woman

The Catifornia Republicans go the full length for free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. With this platform they had no occasion to dally with the Reed-Lodge programme of reciprocity and retaliation, if they even deigned to consider it. But their unequivocal declaration in favor of the McKinley act may be taken as an indication that they are in favor also of its parent as the candidate of the party. for the presidency in 1896. The resolutions of successive Republican conventions in behalf of cheap silver coinage show that they have completely abdicted their pretensions as the Honest Money Party. California forced them out of this advantageous position; so that they have nothing left but the McKinley act for their platform in 1896. The recent interview with Colonel Conger shows how precarious is this ground, on which the Republicans have been overwhelmed with defeat in two suc-

A beautiful custom of the people of Siam is one by which they do hono to their dead. At full moon in October and again m November, three evenings are devoted to setting lighted candles affoat on the border of the sea in the belief that they will be borne away to those who have passed out of this life.

The humblest style in which the ceremony can be performed is yet pretty enough. The broad, strong leaf of a plantain is bent or folded into the shape of a boat or raft. In the middle of this simple structure : tiny taper is fixed upright. "katong" or raft, of which this is the simplest form, is then kept ready in the house until the auspinious moment-predicted by the family priest --has arrived.

Then at this moment, when the water is silvered over by the beams of the broad, rising moon, the taper is lighted and the tiny raft is launched upon the waves.

Very slowly at first it makes its way along the edge of the clibing tide, then wafted gently by the still evening air into the swifter current it drifts tarther and farther away until only a bright speck of light distinguishes it from the rippling surface all around.

When the night is fine, thousands of these little stars of light may be seen twinkling on the broad bosom of Menam, all wending their silent way toward the boundless sea, all friends who have already gone to the great unknown land. -- London Saturday Review.

A Queer Indian Ceremony, Miss Kate Foote spoke at the mouthly meeting of the Hartford Indian association in the parlors of the Center church and mentioned a nun ber of interesting experiences she had among the Riscon and Aqua Caliente tribes of Indians.

She gave a vivid description of the "burning of the engle," one of the customs of the tribe. When the oung eagles are nearly old enough to fly, the tribe goes to the cliffs with ropes and ladders, and one climbs a tree where there is a nest. After a battle with the old birds they capture a young one. Men are stationed in a line to the village, and when the eagle is caught the announcement is sed along the line, so those in the passed along the line, will age hear of it at once. In the evening all the members of the tribe gather around a fire, and from 7 o'clock until the next morning they sing and dance. The eagle is killed by having its neck squeezed. The ongs sung reminded Mi-s Foote of Nancy Lee." Later ut night the eagle is placed in a large basket and thrown on the fire. The fire is made to burn fictor than ever, and the eagle is burned so that it can carry me-sages to the friends of the Indian in the happy bunting grounds. At

Which Smash the Track Trotting Record and End the Mueting.

The trotting record of the Lima track was broken yesterday afternoon n four heats of the free-for-all, firs by Nyanza, in 2:161, and again by Poem in 2:151 and 2:141, and by Jack in 2:15. The record, prior to this was 2:18 and was made by Otto J two years ago.

There was another big crowd pres ent. The Club had the most success ful meeting since its organization, the attendance being good each day. Jessie D won the 2:29 trot in one, a single heat.

Veni followed Jessie D. in taking three straight heats in the 2:30 pace. In the first heat Jury Boy looked like a winner until he broke, when Veni passed him and won. In the Domino Pilot Wilkes Ashwood Time, 2:214; 2:244; 2:254. The event of the day was the freefor-all trot. In the first heat Ny anza took the lead, closely follower by Poem. They trotted neck and neck until the home stretch when the Callie Haynes, for the last four vears the woman assistant physician on the staff of the Western State hospital of Virginia, has resigned her position During her service there Dr. Haynes' efficiency has been recognized by the board by re-elections and by increase of salary. She is described as a woman of fine ability and of tharming social qualities. She will make her permanent home at Staunton Va. The Staunton Vindicator says that there will be sev-

The most important change in the naming of girls has been the growing disinclination to give them more than one name, the object of this being that when a woman marries she may easily combine her full maiden name with he new surname, writes Mrs. Hamilton Mott in The Ladies' Home Journal. A three word signature is much prettie and more convenient than one composed of four words. Then, too, immediate recognition of her own as well as that of her husband's sarname and the cenvenience in genealogical research and legal transactions are two reasons of sufficient importance to warrant the combination were there no others.

With this fashion in girls' names has come, as in boys', a disinclination to use diminutives or pet names. Mollies, Maggies, Kutics and the various femi-nine "ies" and "ys" are as scarce as their masculine counterparts Jimmie and Willie. Mary, Margaret and Katharine have taken the place of the former, and James and William of the latter.

Wonders of Chess Combination

To estimate the actual number of ways of playing even a very few moves in chess is beyond th of calculation. At first both players have a choice of but 20 moves. The first player has an average of 28, 30 and 33 ways of playing the second third and fourth moves, respectively. On the hypothesis that the number of "replies" is always the same, no matter what the preceding move may have been, the number of ways of playing the first four moves on one side only would be 318,979,504,000.

Let us assume for convenience of calculation that for the next six moves on each side after the first four there is a choice of 30 ways of play-ing. We thus get by combination with the result quoted above figures which prove that the number of ways satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won British mathematician.—St. Louis Republic.
